Anti-Corruption Compliance Policy and Procedure

Chapter 1. General Provisions

Article 1. (Objective)

Hyundai Engineering & Construction Co., Ltd. (the "Company") has established rules for responsible, ethical and sustainable management of the Company in all countries and regions where it conducts business, and to guide its employees to make the right decisions and ethical judgements. This Anti-Corruption Compliance Policy and Procedure (the "Policy"), requires Employees to comply with all applicable domestic and international anti-corruption laws and regulations (collectively the "Anti-Corruption laws").

As further detailed in Articles 9 and 16, failure by Employees and Associated Parties to comply with this Policy may result in dismissal and termination of the contractual relationship respectively.

Article 2. (Scope of Application)

- ① This Policy applies to all directors, officers and employees (collectively, "Employees"), of: the Company in domestic and overseas business sites; the subsidiaries of the Company; and any joint ventures to which the Company is a party.
- ② This Policy also applies to temporary agency personnel, contract personnel, consultants, intermediaries, agents or any other third parties acting on behalf of the Company (such as subcontractors and vendors), its subsidiaries or other entities controlled by the Company, joint venture and consortium partners (collectively, "Associated Party or Associated Parties").
- ③ This Policy applies to activities and dealings with persons and entities in both the private sector and public sector.

Article 3. (Definitions)

① The following definitions apply in this Policy:

- 1.1 "Associated Party" or "Associated Parties" has the meaning set out in Article 2(2).
- 1.2 "Bribery" has the meaning set out in Article 5.
- 1.3 "Condolatory Goods" means monies, property benefits, etc. associated with celebrating or mourning.
- 1.4 "Contribution" includes direct or indirect payments, loans, donations, cash equivalents, gifts, services, advantages or benefits (such as promotional support and political campaigning).
- 1.5 "Convenience Offerings" means providing transportation, accommodation, guidance for sightseeing & events, and support and reservation for sports facilities, except provision of monies or Entertainment.
- 1.6 "Economic Benefits" means: property benefits, including but not limited to, monies, securities, real estates, lodging tickets, admission tickets, discount vouchers, rights of using real estates or other equivalents, and anything of value in various forms, both tangible and intangible, such as exemption of debts, provision of employment opportunity, granting of rights and interest, and giving transportation, lodgement, hospitalities and entertainments, including but not limited to, meals, drinks and golf.
- 1.7 "Employees" has the meaning set out in Article 2(1).
- 1.8 "Entertainment" means the provision of hospitality, such as paying for meals, drinks, entertainment, sports (including golf), etc.

- 1.9 “Financial Advantages” means cash or cash equivalents (any and all easily encash-able Economic Benefits such as promissory notes, bills, debentures, gift certificates, securities, etc.) as well as all kinds of financial advantages, including but not limited to, debt repayment, guarantees, loan interest payment by proxy, free or discounted property or real estate.
- 1.10 “Fraudulent Practice” means any act or omission, including misrepresentation that knowingly or recklessly misleads, or attempts to mislead, a party to obtain a financial or other benefit or to avoid an obligation.
- 1.11 “Gift” includes goods, membership cards, lodging tickets, admission tickets or equivalents provided without reasonable payment except for Financial Advantages.
- 1.12 “Public Official” means any domestic or foreign individual who: (a) holds a legislative, governmental, administrative or judicial position of any kind, including but not limited to any officer or employee of a government or of any governmental department, agency or instrumentality; (b) is an employee of any majority government-owned or controlled company; (c) exercises a public function or acts in an official capacity for, or on behalf of, any country or territory; (d) exercises a public function for any public agency or public enterprise of a country or territory; (e) is an official, employee, or agent of any public international organisation or political party; (f) is a candidate for public office; (g) acts in an official capacity for, or on behalf of, any government (or department, agency, or instrumentality thereof) or public international organisation or majority government-owned or controlled company, even if not employed directly by them; or (h) is an employee of a state-owned or state-controlled organisation, company, entity or funding body (such as a national export finance agency), which may include investors or certain bank executives. Chapter 2. Prohibited Conduct

Article 5. (Basic Principles)

① Employees must not directly or indirectly seek, solicit, offer, promise, give or demand, arrange or receive any bribe, kickback or any advantage of whatsoever nature, whether tangible or not (including Economic Benefits and Financial Advantages), to:

- A. obtain or retain business or other improper advantage/s for the Company;
- B. influence a business decision or Public Official (or act in any manner which could be perceived this way);
- C. compromise independent judgement (or act in any manner which could be perceived this way);
- D. induce or reward the improper performance of a function or activity; or
- E. obtain any personal benefit or benefit for the Employee's family, friends, associates or acquaintances.

(any such acts amount to "Bribery").

This includes all forms of bribes such as partial payment of deposits, rewards, and soft dollars.

② Employees must not engage in (nor shall it authorise or permit any person acting on its behalf to engage in) the Fraudulent Practice in the course of its business activities.

Article 5-2 (Employment/Recruitment process)

Employees must not hire an employee, third-party agent or consultant where there is reason to believe that the person may attempt to engage in or otherwise commit Bribery.

Article 6. (Detailed Guidelines)

Notwithstanding Article 5, Employees may provide Economic Benefits to Public Officials or employees of client companies for legitimate business purposes. In such cases, the principles and procedures specified below must be followed.

① The provision of Financial Advantages is not permitted in principle. However, subject to the applicable local Anti-Corruption laws, condolatory goods may be given under the following conditions:

- A. If absolutely necessary for compliance with local cultural practice, Condolatory Goods may be provided within the scope permitted by the local laws or the Code of Conduct for Public Officials in the applicable jurisdiction.
- B. Expenses related to the Condolatory Goods must be demonstrated, and properly classified and recorded in the Company's books and accounting documents.

② Subject to the applicable local Anti-Corruption laws and the following conditions, offering Gifts, Entertainment, and Convenience Offerings may be possible only if the purpose of it is to promote the Company's products and services and strengthen relationships.

Gifts and Entertainment are prohibited under this Policy if they:

- A. are intended to influence improper performance of an individual's duties;
- B. could create or are likely to create a conflict of interest;
- C. would cause embarrassment if disclosed to the public;
- D. are excessive in value;
- E. are frequently offered or requested to the same individual;
- F. are provided to spouses, or other family members of a business related person;
- G. are forbidden according to the internal regulations of the organization to which the recipient belongs and/or the laws of the country.

Annexure 1 to this Policy contains further guidance on the matters which Employees should consider before accepting or offering Gifts or Entertainment.

③ Subject to the applicable local Anti-Corruption laws, contributions may only be provided if they meet the following conditions:

- A. Financial Contributions for political purposes must not be provided to political candidates, elected representatives or political parties, either directly or through a third party.
- B. They are not provided as an attempt to influence a government official, or as an attempt to return any promised or favorable treatment by any Public Official.
- C. They do not exceed the upper limit and standards established in the applicable country's laws or code of conduct for Public Officials.
- D. They are reasonable in value and consistent with local culture and customs.
- E. They are not frequently or repeatedly offered to a specific Public Official or employee of a client company.
- F. Details of the Contributions are supported by receipts, invoices, statements or other means and recorded and reflected accurately in the accounting books of the Company.
- G. The provision of reasonable and good-will Contributions under the Anti- Corruption laws is permitted, but is not permitted if;
 - 1. the recipient is a political organization, or is controlled by a political organisation;
 - 2. the recipient has business interests with the Company;
 - 3. it is known that the recipient is to use or is using the Contributions as a route to fund illegal activities;
 - 4. the Contribution would induce or reward the improper performance of a function or activity (or acts which could be perceived that way) by such persons or any other private person or Public Officials;
 - 5. the Contribution would influence such persons or other Public Officials in their respective categories with the intention of obtaining or retaining business or any other advantage for the Company.

Any Contribution should be approved in advance of payment by the Compliance Team.

Article 7. (Facilitation Payments)

Facilitation payments are small payments (often nominal in value) sought by or offered to Public Officials to expedite or effect routine services or administrative actions provided by or performed by those individuals. Examples include: processing government papers such as visas or work permits, customs clearances, adequate police protection, or providing phone or water service.

Employees must not make facilitation payments, even if nominal in amount. The only exception to this rule is when an Employee's life is in danger or an Employee's liberty is threatened. If a demand for a Facilitation payment is accompanied by an imminent threat, then the Employee should put his or her safety first and make the payment and report it immediately to the Compliance Team. Any such payment must be recorded properly as a payment made under duress in the Company's books and records.

If an Employee is approached to make a payment, and is unsure whether it constitutes a facilitation payment, he or she should consult the Compliance Team or his or her Line Manager before making the payment.

Chapter 3. Associated Party Compliance

Article 8. (Associated Party Compliance)

① The Company may have legal responsibility for work undertaken by a third party or an Associated Party. Employees must therefore take care to prevent that said third party or Associated Party from violating the Anti-Corruption laws and/or this Policy. In this regard, the Company shall make available for the Associated Parties anti-corruption training arranged by the Company.

② In doing business with an Associated Party or a third party, Employee must also adhere to the requirements in the Counterparty Due Diligence Guideline (Guideline) [Annexure 2 Counterparty Due Diligence Guideline]

Article 9. (Signing of Contracts with Associated Parties)

① All contracts between the Company and Associated Parties (or other third parties) must include the following provisions:

- A. A requirement not to pay or receive any bribes and to comply with the requirements of Anti-Corruption laws and conventions of the jurisdictions applicable to the Company's business operations;
- B. A requirement to comply with and act in a manner consistent with this Policy;
- C. A requirement to keep proper books and records available for inspection by the Company, auditors or investigatory authorities; and
- D. Where the Associated Party or other third party is an agent, consultant or intermediary, an obligation to report to the Company on a regular and continuing basis regarding the accomplishment of his or her duties.
- E. The Company has conducted the appropriate level of due diligence to evaluate potential compliance risks as per Guideline provided in Annexure 2. This includes, for example, checks regarding whether any Associated Party is a Public Official or Politically Exposed Person.

② The Employees who work with the Associated Parties (or other third parties) must satisfy themselves that the Associated Parties (or other third parties) comply with the Anti-Corruption requirements specified in the contract and shall keep written records of such findings.

③. Failure by the Associated Parties to comply with this Policy may result in termination of the contractual relationship.

④ The fees and/or contract price payable to the Associated Parties (or other third parties) must be appropriate remuneration for legitimate services actually rendered.

Article 9-2 (Payments to Associated Parties)

Employees must obtain prior permission/approval from the Compliance Team when making any payments set forth below.

- A. In cash (other than documented petty cash disbursements);
- B. With corporate cheques payable to "cash", "bearer" or third party designees of the party entitled to payment;
- C. To any other person or entity other than the Associated Party (or other third party);
- D. To an individual, entity or account outside the Associated Party's country of residence; or
- E. Where there is a reason to believe that any part of the payment made to the Associated Party may be passed on as a bribe or other inducement.

Employees must obtain prior permission/approval from the Compliance Team where an Employee:

- A. has any concerns regarding the amount of money being paid to the Associated Party (or other third party);
- B. has doubts as to whether the payments amount to appropriate remuneration for legitimate services actually rendered; or
- C. is unclear as to the ultimate destination of the payments.

Chapter 4
